

3rd BeNA Labor Economics Workshop

May 25, 2016, Potsdam

Program

- 10:00 – 10:10 Welcome note
- 10:10 – 11:00 Arne Thomas (TU Berlin)
Do They Really Miss Their Mate? The Effect of Key Player Absence on Team Performance
- 11:00– 11:50 Jonathan Stöterau (RWI)
The market-based dissemination of modern-energy products as a business model for rural entrepreneurs: Evidence from Kenya
- 12:00–12:40 Poster Session
- Lukas Mergele (HU Berlin)
Exchange Rate Effects on Local Labor Markets: Evidence from the Swiss Franc Shock
 - Guido Neidhöfer (FU Berlin)
Dynastic Inequality and Persistence of Human Capital Over Three Generations
- 12:40 – 13:40 Lunch break (Mensa Campus Griebnitzsee)
- 13:40 – 14:30 Malte Preuß (FU Berlin)
Losing (Locus of) Control? An Economic Perspective on Psychological Reactions to Unemployment Shocks
- 14:30– 15:20 Stefanie Seele (HU Berlin)
No Role for the Hartz Reforms? Demand and Supply Factors in the German Labor Market, 1993-2014
- 15:20 – 15:50 Coffee break
- 15:50 – 16:40 Maria Metzging (DIW Berlin)
Time use, Experienced Well-being and Labor Market Status
- 16:40 – 17:30 Ying Shi (Duke University/HU Berlin)
Who benefits from selective schools? Evidence from North Carolina on high-achieving math and science students
- 18:00 Informal get-together

Location

Hosted by the University of Potsdam PCQR, Campus Griebnitzsee, August-Bebel-Str. 89, 14482 Potsdam Haus 6, Raum S21 (Map: <http://www.uni-potsdam.de/db/zeik-portal/gm/griebnitzsee.pdf>)

If you have further questions, please send an email to workshop@labor-research.net.

BeNA Workshop Organization Committee

Claudia Stier & Stefan Tübbicke
(University of Potsdam)

