

Submission Guidelines

CEPA Discussion Papers is the working paper series for research papers written by CEPA members and CEPA guests/fellows.

Editorial Board

Rainald Borck, Lisa Bruttel, Marco Caliendo (Editor-in-Chief), Maik Heinemann, Alexander Kritikos

The Submission Process

Submissions can be made by any CEPA member and CEPA guests/fellows at dp-cepa@uni-potsdam.de using the PDF file format and including an abstract. Please note that papers will be reviewed for compliance with our publication criteria. Publication as a CEPA Discussion Paper is conditional on acceptance by the editors.

The criteria for publication as a CEPA Discussion Paper are:

- Submitting author must be current CEPA member or CEPA guest/fellow.
- The submitted paper has not yet been published elsewhere except other discussion paper series.
- The paper must fit into CEPA's current research program and fulfill CEPA's quality standards.

After Submission

Once your paper is published in a journal or book, please inform us such that we can update the information on our website.

Copyright information

By submitting a working paper for publication as a CEPA Discussion Paper, the authors agree that the paper will be published in electronic form as a CEPA Discussion Paper at the University of Potsdam (ISSN: 2628-653X). Once published, CEPA does not update, replace, or delete CEPA Discussion Papers thereafter. The submission as a CEPA Discussion Paper does not place any copyright restrictions on the submitted content. All rights remain with the authors.
