

#CEPAPolicyLecture No. 4 Climate Clubs

Date: 3 November 2021 | 17:00-18:00

Speaker: Jakob von Weizsäcker
Head of the General Policy Department, Federal Ministry of Finance, Germany

Moderator: Prof. Dr. Matthias Kalkuhl
MCC Berlin and CEPA, University of Potsdam

About the Speaker

Jakob von Weizsäcker studied physics and economics in Lyon and Paris. He worked at the Ministry of Economics, at the World Bank and was fellow at BRUEGEL in Brussels. He was member of the European Parliament (2014-2019) and is department head at the Ministry of Finance since 2019.

About the Policy Lecture

Economics provides tools and methods for analyzing and evaluating policy measures that focus on important social, political and economic problems. Still, there is often a perceived gap between academic analyses and the political reality. The Policy Lecture therefore seeks to bring together high-level policymakers and policy advisors with researchers and advanced students in the field of economic and environmental policy.

Audience

The Policy Lecture is open to all students, PhD Students and researchers at the University of Potsdam and our partner institutions in the Potsdam-Berlin area (MCC Berlin, PIK, DIW, BSE).

Students' preparation meeting "Discussing Economic Policy Analyses"

Interested students can join the preparation meeting on 1 November, 17:00 – 18:00 (s.t.) at room 3.06.S15, where topic and speaker are introduced and where is room for internal discussions.

Registration

www.uni-potsdam.de/en/cepa/events/policy-lectures

Contact

Stephanie Massar | info-cepa@uni-potsdam.de