International Exchange Opportunities: M.Sc. EPQM

(As of 2nd of March 2022)

ERASMUS+ Partnerships

There are various partnerships between the Faculty for Economics and Social Sciences of the University of Potsdam and other universities in Europe. The advantage of such an ERASMUS+ partnership is that students do not have to pay tuition fees at the institution abroad and receive financial support through an ERASMUS+ scholarship.

The exchange contracts are concluded for specific fields of studies – in the case of the EPQM Master in the field of Economics. However, it is sometimes possible to study abroad through a contract in another area, such as political sciences. For this you will have to research the course regulations and options at your desired abroad institution. (Overview here)

Additionally, it is sometimes possible to apply for left over ERASMUS+ exchange slots concluded by other faculties of the University of Potsdam if those were not used by students of the faculty. An overview of these partners can be found here.
