Thema des Vortrages:

Fiscal equalization in the spatial economy

Abstract:

We use a general equilibrium model with fiscal equalization to show that regional transfers are quantitatively important for understanding the spatial allocation of economic activity. We find that the abolishment of fiscal equalization in Germany would lead to a moderate welfare gain of about 0.33 percent implying migration of about 5 percent of the population in the long run. The increases in average real GDP per capita and average labor productivity are more pronounced at 5.8 percent and 9.2 percent, respectively.

Wir freuen uns auf Ihre Teilnahme.
