

INVITED TALKS

BOOK TALK

7. NOVEMBER, 18:00–20:00

CAMPUS Am Neuen Palais | Building 11 | Room 0.09

Mariana Candido, PhD, FRHistS

Winship Distinguished Research Professor of History, Emory University 2023-2026

Nina Maria Gorrissen Fellow in History, The American Academy in Berlin, Fall 2023

Member, School of Historical Studies, Institute for Advanced Study, Princeton, NJ, Spring 2024

The professorship of Global History invites you to attend a book talk by Winship Distinguished Research Professor of History Mariana Candido (Emory University, American Academy in Berlin, Institute for Advanced Studies, Princeton). Prof. Candido will speak about her new book Wealth, Land, and Property in Angola: A History of Dispossession, Slavery, and Inequality, published with Cambridge University Press in September 2022. She delves into the complex history of deprivation, consumption and disparity in West Central Africa. By integrating various academic perspectives, such as the history of slavery, land ownership, and gender roles in West Central Africa, Candido provides valuable insights and pushes for the decolonization of historiography.

Photo: © Adobe.Stock | 264480990

INVITED TALKS

BOOK TALK

6. DECEMBER, 18:00–20:00

CAMPUS Am Neuen Palais | Building 11 | Room 0.09

Morgan J. Robinson

Mississippi State University & Kulturwissenschaftliches Institut Essen

The professorship of Global History invites you to attend a book talk by Assistant Professor Morgan Robinson (Mississippi State University & Kulturwissenschaftliches Institut Essen) about her recent open access book A Language for the World: The Standardization of Swahili, Ohio University Press, 2022. An intellectual history, this scholarly study of Standard Swahili delves into the extensive and interconnected journeys of standardization and community-building within the historical, political, and cultural landscapes of East Africa and its surroundings.

INVITED TALKS

CYCLES OF GLOBALIZATION AND DEGLOBALIZATION

19. DECEMBER, 18:00–20:00

CAMPUS Am Neuen Palais | Building 11 | Room 0.09

Harold James

Princeton University & Wissenschaftskolleg Berlin

The professorship of Global History invites you to attend a talk by Harold James, the Claude and Lore Kelly Professor in European Studies and Professor of History and International Affairs at Princeton University. His books include a study of the interwar depression in Germany, The German Slump (1986); an analysis of the changing character of national identity in Germany, A German Identity 1770-1990 (1989); International Monetary Cooperation Since Bretton Woods (1996), and The End of Globalization (2001). In this talk he will concentrate on discussing cycles of globalization and deglobalization.

Photo: © Adobe.Stock | 618365899