German-Italian Cooperation in the Humanities and Social Sciences 2024

31 December 2022

Within the framework of an agreement with the Deutsche Forschungsgemeinschaft (DFG, German Research Foundation), Villa Vigoni is once again inviting applications for a programme of events between Germany and Italy to promote the humanities and social sciences in 2024. The programme's objectives include exploring current challenges in the humanities and social sciences from a comparative German and Italian perspective as well as mobilising new connections between German and Italian science. The programme does not necessarily have to deal exclusively with German-Italian topics. The project is intended to take account of Villa Vigoni's institutional mission to promote "German-Italian relations in science, education and culture in a European spirit" and also to enable young academics to meet.

UK-German Funding Initiative in the Humanities

8 February 2022

The Arts and Humanities Research Council (AHRC) and the Deutsche Forschungsgemeinschaft (DFG, German Research Foundation) are launching a call for proposals for outstanding joint UK-German research projects in the Humanities. Proposals should strengthen cooperation in the fields of arts and humanities between Germany and the UK. Both funding agencies want to strengthen international cooperation in these fields, to fund academic research of the highest quality within their own countries, and are aware that some of the best research can only be achieved by working with the best researchers internationally.

Central importance of German-Polish cooperation in science and research

The current global political crises and their impact on science and research in Germany and Poland, but also possible strategies for overcoming them, were the dominant topics of the third Polish-German Science Meeting, which now brought together 17 research institutions and funding organisations from both countries in Berlin. The two-day meeting was organised by the German Research Foundation (DFG) and its two Polish partner organisations, the Foundation for Polish Science (FNP) and the National Science Centre (NCN).
