Philipp Schwartz Initiative of the Alexander von Humboldt Foundation

11 September 2020

The Philipp Schwartz Initiative provides universities and research institutions in Germany with the means to host threatened international researchers for a period of 24 months on a fully funded research fellowship. An extension is possible under a co-financing model. Threatened researchers from any academic field and any country of origin may be eligible for the fellowship. Please note that researchers cannot apply on an individual basis. We recommend that researchers interested in this programme contact potential host institutions in Germany, which may be in a position to submit an application. Read more about the conditions of application by clicking on the link below.

Pre-announcement of the NCN-DFG Calls for Joint Polish-German Proposals

September 2020

Following up on their previous three successful rounds, the National Science Centre (NCN) and Deutsche Forschungsgemeinschaft (DFG) continue their cooperation by launching joint funding initiatives for Polish-German research projects, now covering all fields of science and the humanities. The aims of the joint funding initiative calls are to support research in the above-named disciplines carried out by Polish-German teams and to strengthen cooperation between Polish and German researchers in basic (knowledge-oriented) research.
