Dear ELINET colleagues and friends,

We are very excited to share this information about the upcoming ELINET Webinar series Digital Literacy Practices in Schools and would be grateful if you can pass it on to any students, colleagues and friends that could be interested.

In this 3-session series, presenters will provide a talk introducing their research-based, state-of-the art, open access materials for developing digital literacy educational practices. Participants will have a chance to explore the materials and how they work, as well as take part in an engaging, interactive discussion with the presenters, who are also the authors of the materials.

The webinars will be held bi-weekly starting on 15 May, at 17:00 Central European Time, lasting 90 minutes each.

Given the high priority and relevance of the webinar theme in current times, and that there is a limited number of places available, please don't delay if you want to have the opportunity of participating: Register for the series today at THIS LINK ! Also, be sure to check out our ELINET website (LINK) for more details on the presenters and the full abstracts of each webinar.

Here is the schedule:
>Wednesday 15 May, 2024, from 17:00 to 18:30 (CET) - Webinar 1. Presenters: Elena Forzani (Boston University) and Chu Ly (Fairheim University, USA). Using the integrative multimodal literacy assessment to understand the literacy practices young children bring into the classroom from home.

>Wednesday 29 May, 17:00-18:30 - Webinar 2:Carita Kiili and Pirjo Kulju (Tampere University, Finland)
>Empowering pre- and in-service teachers in teaching online credibility evaluation.

>Wednesday 12 June, 17:00-18:30 - Webinar 3: Angela Colvert (University of Sheffield, United Kingdom)
> Exploring Digital Literacies through Transmedia Storying in Schools: Technical Skills, Cultural Connections and Critical Questions

We kindly ask you to pass on this email and information to teachers, teacher educators and others interested in educating students for digital literacy.

Best regards,

The ELINET Webinar Task Group

ONLINE
WEBINARS

European Literacy Policy Network
ELINET

Developing Digital Literacy in Schools

Webinar 1

The integrative multimodal literacy assessment to understand the young children's literacy practices

Wednesday 15 May, 2024, 17:00-18:30 CET

presenting: Elena Forzani (Boston University)
Chu Ly (Fairheim University, USA)

Webinar 2

Empowering pre- and in-service teachers in teaching online credibility evaluation

Wednesday 29 May, 2024, 17:00-18:30 CET

presenting: Carita Kiili and Pirjo Kulju
(Tampere University, Finland)

Webinar 3

Exploring Digital Literacies through Transmedia Storying in Schools: Technical Skills, Cultural Connections and Critical Questions

Wednesday 12 June, 2024, 17:00-18:30 CET

presenting: Angela Colvert
(Sheffield University, UK)

Registration via:
https://forms.gle/NhjVkJyBiuiBi2P1A