Times Higher Education
Young University Ranking 2022

Founded in 1991, the University of Potsdam (UP) is a modern and dynamic institution thoroughly focused on innovative teaching and research. In the 2022 Young University Ranking compiled by Times Higher Education we were ranked #1 in Germany and #28 worldwide.

Situated in the multicultural area of Berlin-Brandenburg, UP attracts students from 121 countries. We offer a broad range of degree programs in various fields, including a large number of master's programs in English. Moreover, you can choose from several specialized programs, such as short-term summer courses. If you want to apply for a bachelor's degree and do not have the German higher education entrance qualifications, you can do a preparatory year.

With its many charming castles, surrounding woodland and lakes, Potsdam is the ideal choice for studying abroad in an inspiring and history-soaked environment. One of our three campuses is even located right next to the historical castle Neues Palais and Sanssouci Park, which are recognized as a UNESCO World Heritage site.

We're looking forward to accompanying you on your personal journey at the University of Potsdam!

Study & Live in Potsdam

Finances

No tuition fee is charged for studying at the University of Potsdam (with the exception of a few continuing-education courses). There is only an administrative fee of around €316/semester, which includes a semester ticket entitling you to free use of public transport. Monthly living expenditures for UP students amount on average to €934/month. For information about scholarship providers, go to www.daad.de/en/study-and-research-in-germany/scholarships/.

Working

If you want to gain work experience while studying, you can choose from plenty of job opportunities in different fields. Our Career Service can help you find a job and offers advice on how to write a good application. www.uni-potsdam.de/de/career-service/

Accommodation

In Germany, students are required to seek accommodation themselves. There are several student dormitories in Potsdam. If you're interested in staying there, you should take a look at the application criteria and apply early. Many students prefer to find an apartment in Potsdam or Berlin, which they often share with friends.

Sports, Culture, and Student Associations

After a long day of sitting in lecture halls, libraries or with your laptop at home, you deserve some free time. Why not enroll in one of UP's 600 sports courses for students or check out the local theaters and cinemas? Of course, you can also join one of our many student associations.

Discover Potsdam

Potsdam can boast 17 royal palaces and grand buildings. Today the city's palaces and its enchanting parks form one of Germany's biggest UNESCO World Heritage sites.

In the town center, you can find lots of inspiring theaters, concert halls, museums and discover nice markets, restaurants and cafés. Potsdam is also home to one of the world's oldest film studios, Studio Babelsberg. Famous movies like Metropolis, Inglourious Basterds, or The Grand Budapest Hotel were shot here.

Potsdam has a lot in store for nature addicts. Situated alongside the river Havel and surrounded by lakes and greenery, it is the perfect spot for long strolls, running, and swimming outdoors. If you prefer exploring big cities, then just hop on the next train and within 30 minutes, you'll have reached Germany's bustling capital, Berlin.
