

Support of Equal Opportunity for Young Researchers at the Faculty of Science

The Faculty of Science at the University of Potsdam provides funding to support equal opportunity among young researchers. Applications for support can be submitted for the following options for the funding period January to June 2022:

1. Support for doctoral candidates and master students (in the master's thesis phase), as well as scientific staff, whose contract or scholarship has been interrupted or expired prematurely due to the birth of a child or child care responsibilities, and cannot be extended by other means.
2. Provisioning of funds to hire a graduate assistant (WHK) in order to ease the burden of mothers or fathers currently completing their qualifications. This is meant to alleviate the workload of parents who are engaged in time-intensive work, for example in practical laboratory work.
3. Support for graduates of above-average talent to bridge the time between the completion of a master's degree and the initiation of a doctoral project, especially while formulating applications or preparing publications.
4. Support for doctoral candidates and master students in the final phase, whose contract or scholarship expires before reaching the degree due to delays caused by the current corona crisis, and cannot be extended by other means.

Support under options 1, 3 and 4 is provided by means of graduate assistant (WHK) contracts for the applicants. Please see below for application requirements for options 1 to 4.

In principle, the funding provided by the Faculty should be financed by at least 50% from the responsible W2 or W3 professorship, and by at least 35% from the responsible W1/junior professorship or junior group. The head of the working group must provide explicit written support for the project, guarantee reciprocal financing with indication of the Kostenstelle, and explain why full support funding is not possible from other funding sources.

Please send all application documents by to Dr. Stefanie Mikulla (stefanie.mikulla@uni-potsdam.de), Dean's Office of the Faculty of Science. We also ask that letters of reference from supervisors be sent to this email address.

Please understand that only persons primarily employed by the University of Potsdam are eligible as supervisors. As a rule, subsidies for the same person are not possible more than twice. If you submit a repeat application, please attach a report about the period in which you have already received support (about half a page) to the application documents.

The call for applications for support of young researchers is subject to budgetary restrictions.

A short application containing the following points is expected from students and staff who are interested in one of the funding schemes mentioned above:

To option 1.:

- Information according to template for applications,
