The University of Potsdam, Faculty of Arts, Department of Slavic Studies invites applications for the following position, to be filled as soon as possible:

Professorship (W 2) for East Slavic Literatures and Cultures

The successful candidate is expected to have proven research competence in the full range of Russian literary and cultural studies. The professorship is responsible for the bachelor’s and master’s programs in Russian (BA Russian Studies, BA and MA Russian Teacher Training), but also provides teaching in the bi-national bachelor’s program Interdisciplinary Russian Studies and in the interdisciplinary master’s program Eastern European Cultural Studies at the Department of Slavic Studies. Prerequisites are: compatibility with the current research foci of the Faculty of Arts and the willingness to engage in interdisciplinary research and teaching cooperation within the Faculty as well as in regional and supra-regional specialist cooperations. Comparatist competences and a cultural studies profile in research and teaching (literature and other arts and media in Eastern Europe) as well as further East Slavic research and teaching competence (Ukrainian or Belarusian studies) are desired. Active involvement in the further internationalization of Slavic Studies is also expected.

Non-native speakers are expected to have excellent German-language skills.

Please contact Prof. Dr. Magdalena Marszalek (magdalena.marszalek@uni-potsdam.de) for further information.

The following application requirements for professors must be documented in accordance with Section 41 of the Brandenburg Higher Education Act (Brandenburgisches Hochschulgesetz, BbgHG): a completed university degree, pedagogical aptitude, and a particular ability for scientific and scholarly work, typically documented by a dissertation project; comprehensive competences in science management and additional scholarly achievements as evidenced by a Habilitation (post-doctoral dissertation), a junior professorship or work as a research associate at an institution of higher education or an extramural research institution, or scholarly activity in the private sector or in another social field, whether in Germany or abroad. The appointment procedure is conducted in accordance with Section 40 BbgHG.

The University of Potsdam aims to increase the proportion of women in research and teaching and therefore expressly invites qualified female candidates to apply. The University of Potsdam values the diversity of its members and pursues the goals of equal opportunities regardless of gender, nationality, ethnic and social origin, religion/belief, disability, age, sexual orientation or identity. In the case of equal suitability, women in accordance with Section 7 (4) BbgHG and severely disabled people will be given preferential consideration. We explicitly invite applications from abroad and from persons with a migration background.
