

The University of Potsdam, Faculty of Arts, Department of History and Classical Philology invites applications for the following position, to be filled as soon as possible:

Full Professorship (W 3) for Classical Philology

The holder of the post will represent the full disciplinary breadth of Classical Philology. They will teach courses for undergraduate degree programs comprising the BA in Philological Studies, the BEd in Latin, Latin and Greek for the dual-subject BA program as well as the postgraduate program MEd in Latin. The successful candidate is expected to have experience in teacher training programs, to actively develop the BEd and MEd programs and to cooperate and engage with secondary schools of the state of Brandenburg.

In terms of research, the successful candidate must have a track record of high-caliber publications in both Latin and Greek Philology. A focus on Digital Humanities in research and/or teaching as well as a willingness to cooperate actively in the projects and initiatives of the Network Digital Humanities at the Faculty of Arts would be particularly welcome.

It is expected that the holder of the chair will collaborate closely with the neighboring disciplines (Ancient History, Languages, Literature and Cultures) in both research and in teaching. The ability to connect to further research interests of the Faculty of Arts (Religious Studies, Jewish Studies, the Cultural History of Violence, Gender Studies) would be an additional asset.

Moreover, candidates are expected to have an international research profile and a track record of third-party funding and management thereof.

For further information, please contact the Head of the Department of History, Prof. Dr. Filippo Carlà-Uhink (filippo.carla-uhink@uni-potsdam.de).

The hiring process is subject to the requirements set forth in Section 41 subsection 1 no. 1 - 3, 4a and 4c of the Brandenburg Higher Education Act (BbgHG). The appointment procedure is conducted in accordance with Section 40 BbgHG.

The University of Potsdam aims to increase the proportion of women in research and teaching and therefore expressly invites qualified female candidates to apply.
