

Universität Potsdam

The University of Potsdam, Faculty of Human Science, Cognitive Sciences, Department of Psychology invites applications for the following position, to be filled by April 1, 2021:

Full Professorship (W 3) of Social Psychology

The successful candidate will cover the entire field of social psychology in teaching and research. Applicants are expected to have experience in university teaching, an excellent track record of international, high-quality publications, experience in the acquisition of external research funding, and high national and international academic visibility. The professor will take on full responsibility for teaching social psychology in the bachelor's and master's degree programs in Psychology and in related degree programs. The main teaching language is German, but some courses may be held in English.

The candidate's research profile should allow for connections to the research profile of the Department of Psychology. They should also show strong interest in getting involved in the University's Research Focus on Cognitive Sciences. Efforts in establishing new national or international scientific collaborations or research networks are desirable. Commitment to participating in the further development of degree programs and to support academic self-administration in various roles is required. Candidates must have a good command of German and English.

Please contact Prof. Dr. Birgit Elsner (belsner@uni-potsdam.de) if you have any questions about the position.

The following application requirements for professors must be documented in accordance with Section 41 of the Brandenburg Higher Education Act (Brandenburgisches Hochschulgesetz, BbgHG): a completed university degree, pedagogical talent, and a particular aptitude for scientific and scholarly work, as is typically documented by a dissertation project; comprehensive competences in science management and additional scholarly achievements as evidenced by a Habilitation (post-doctoral dissertation), a junior professorship or work as a research associate at an institution of higher education or an extramural research institution, or scholarly activity in the private sector, or in a similar social field, whether in Germany or abroad. The appointment procedure is conducted in accordance with Section 40 BbgHG.

The University strives for a balanced gender ratio at all levels. Severely disabled applicants will be given preferential consideration in the event of equal qualification. We expressly invite applications from people with migration backgrounds.

The University of Potsdam offers dual career support and coaching for newly-appointed professors: www.uni-potsdam.de/berufungen.html.

Applications (with a presentation of your research interests, curriculum vitae, copies of academic certificates and documents, a list of publications, a list of courses taught, a list of externally funded projects) should be sent (in a single PDF file) to the University of Potsdam at ausschreibungen@uni-potsdam.de within four weeks of the publication of this notice.
